INTRODUCING THE NEW SAAMUSC OFFICERS!

The elections in early 2024 inaugurated the new list of SAAMUSC officers for the year! These officers include Amanda May, our new SAAMUSC President, Noah Larson (Vice President), Madison Stein (Secretary), Dahlia Bray (Treasurer), Max Pont (Communication Chair), Jordan Johnson and Maxwell Morgan (LISGSA Liaisons), and Mackenzie Schulte (Program Chair). Over the next several newsletters, each officer will introduce themselves with a brief bio. Below are the bios introducing two of SAAMUSC's new officers: Amanda May and Madison Stein!

Amanda May - President

Hello everyone! My name is Amanda May and I am excited to serve as the President for SAAMUSC this year! I am in my second semester of the MLIS program, and I currently work as a Library Information Specialist at Ellis Library. Some areas of archives I am interested in are video game preservation and participatory archives. In my free time, I love reading, writing, listening to music and podcasts, and playing video games. Please feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions, concerns, or if you have any recommendations for music, podcasts, books, or video games! 😊

Madison Stein - Secretary

My name is Madison Stein and I am in my fourth semester in the MLIS program with an archive focus. I graduated with a B.A. in English and a minor in History at the University of Maryville where I graduated summa cum laude in 2022. I also work at Logan University as a Library Associate. Outside of class, I enjoy researching my history interests, mainly ancient civilizations, I also enjoy reading fantasy books, collecting Marvel comic books, and playing video games.

REFLECTION: MUSEUM OF ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY TOUR

On May 18th, 2024 SAAMUSC had a tour of the newly re-opened Museum of Art and Archaeology. The tour was led by Dr. Benton Kidd, the museum's Curator of Antiquities, and began with a short presentation detailing the history of the museum. A special thank you to Dr. Benton Kidd and Julie Chatman for all of their help and work organizing this tour!

If you are interested in visiting the museum, please check out their website <https://maa.missouri.edu/> for more information. Admission to the museum is always free.

AAPI ARCHIVE FEATURE: THE SOUTH ASIAN AMERICAN DIGITAL ARCHIVE (SAADA)

<https://www.saada.org/>

May is Asian American & Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month! To bring attention to archives in the US that are AAPI-run (and continue to do so in subsequent newsletters!), SAAMUSC would like to highlight the Pennsylvania-based South Asian American Digital Archive (SAADA) for Vol. 36. According to the SAADA website, the archive's mission is to "create a more inclusive society by giving voice to South Asian Americans through documenting, preserving, and sharing stories that represent their unique and diverse experiences." With numerous digital exhibits, community story features, programs/events, videos, artwork, and much more, SAADA is an amazing resource for anyone looking to learn more about South Asian communities in the US. Below are links to two of the many digital exhibits at SAADA, but the link above will take you to the homepage.

SAAMUSC OFFICER INTRODUCTIONS: PART 2!

The elections in early 2024 inaugurated the new list of SAAMUSC officers for the year! Last month, two of the newly elected officers were introduced: Amanda May (SAAMUSC President) and Madison Stein (SAAMUSC Secretary). To continue the introductions, this month will feature two more of SAAMUSC's new officers: Dahlia Bray and Maxwell Morgan!

Dahlia Bray - Treasurer

I am a first-year grad student in the Library and Information Science program. I am a huge lover of vintage and antique everything, but I tend to favor fashion and textiles the most. I am a member of and advocate for LGBTQ+ rights; this topic also consumes my archival interests. I am looking forward to serving SAA and introducing others to the magic of textiles and the unique existence of those in the LGBTQ+ community.

Maxwell Morgan - LISGSA Liaison

Hello everyone, my name is Maxwell and I am looking forward to serving as one of your LISGSA liaisons for the coming term! I am currently living in Saint Joseph, Missouri and am entering my final semester of the LIS program with a concentration in archives. My academic background is history and humanities, and I am currently working as the curator for Saint Joseph Museums, Inc. which is most well-known for the Glore Psychiatric Museum! Though not in a traditionally LIS position, I find the intersections between museums, archives, and libraries incredibly interesting, and hope to help highlight some untraditional information agencies. We have some great things lined up for the future, so keep an eye out for SAAMUSC updates from our newsletter. Good luck with the coming semester!

For July's newsletter, two more new SAAMUSC officers will be introduced:
Mackenzie Schulte and Noah Larson!

Mackenzie Schulte

Hello, my name is Mackenzie Schulte, and I am one of the Program Chairs for the Students of American Archivists Chapter at the University of Missouri. I grew up and currently live in the Kansas City area. In 2015, I received two bachelor's degrees from the University of Kansas in Film and Media Studies and History. In 2021, I received my master's in history from the University of Missouri Kansas City, as well as a certificate in Medieval and Early Modern Studies. While at UMKC, my studies consisted of Medieval and Early Modern English history, with my thesis focusing on coffeehouses in England during the 17th and 18th century and how they created commercial networks of trust, as well as studying paleography. My paleographic skills landed me a research assistant position for Dr. Linda Mitchell by compiling her notes on English indentures and legal documents into data sheets. I am currently in my second year of the MLIS program, with hopes of graduating next May. In my spare time, I love to read, binge watch TV, and take my dog Bailey for walks. I am an avid Star Wars fan, and my favorite animal is dinosaurs.

Noah Larson

Hello, my name is Noah and I just completed my third semester at the University of Missouri. I have been volunteering and working for libraries and archives since 2017 and have dabbled in a little bit of everything from research libraries to special collections, digital collections, systems administration, front-end website coding, special and corporate libraries, etc.

A little bit about me, just like my career thus far, I've moved around. I have lived in Missouri, Minnesota, and North Carolina. Before I wanted to be a librarian, I wanted to work in the National Park Service. I like to play retro video games and I love to make my own plant-based alternatives to everyday foods.

HIGHLIGHTING REGIONAL ARCHIVE ORGANIZATIONS

Association of Hawai'i Archivists (AHA)

From the AHA website:

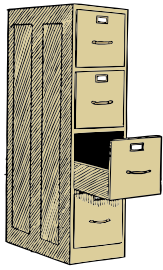

“The Association’s mission is to support and provide continuing education for the state’s archivists and to encourage the preservation of and access to a wide variety of historical materials in archival repositories of Hawai’i.

AHA upholds this mission by:

- Coordinating annual meetings with focused programs and networking opportunities
- Hosting educational workshops and presentations, given by local and national experts, as well as tours of archival repositories in Hawai’i.
- Conducting workshops on preserving and organizing personal and institutional papers, photos, textiles and other historical material for our local community
- Maintaining a listserv for communication and for exchanging ideas.
- Continually updating the AHA website to keep the membership informed about organizational operations and upcoming activities; as well as providing links to archival resources and an updated directory of archival and historical repositories in the state”

MTV News is Back (Kind Of) Thanks to the Internet Archive

Featured in the Rolling Stone

Author: Jon Blistein

Some excerpts from the article:

“Late last month, more than two decades worth of music and entertainment journalism vanished when Paramount Global suddenly disabled the MTV News website. Just over a week later, the Internet Archive has responded by creating a searchable collection of the old MTV News site through the Wayback Machine.”

“The new MTV News collection came about after the site was taken down and the Internet Archive contacted Michael Alex, who founded and led MTV News’ digital group between 1994 and 2007.”

HIGHLIGHTING REGIONAL ARCHIVE ORGANIZATIONS

Kentucky Council on Archives (KCA)

From the Kentucky Council on Archives (KCA) website:

“The Kentucky Council on Archives is an association of archivists, historians, librarians, records managers, and individuals interested in the advancement of archives.

KCA’s mission is to promote within Kentucky and in surrounding areas the cooperation and exchange of information among individuals interested in the collection, description, preservation, administration, and greatest possible accessibility of all archival materials.

...The organization also publishes a newsletter, The Kentucky Archivist, which contains articles on archival activities in the state, and news of national and local events affecting archives, as well as previews of the upcoming meetings.”

LABOR DAY AT THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES

Labor Day is here! In recognition of the holiday and its important connections to the history of the US labor movement and workers across the country, an array of materials have been compiled by the National Archives as part of its Labor Day page.

From the National Archives' Labor Day page:

“The National Archives and Records Administration holds records created or received by the U.S. Government on issues of labor and labor rights, including records on unions, strikes and responses, debates about women and children in the workplace, and the Government’s role in providing economic security and workplace rights. These records document and detail the struggle to define and assert workplace rights. We not only hold these records, we provide access to them. Search the National Archives Catalog for related records.”

To learn more, you can visit the link embedded in the underlined ‘National Archives Catalog’ phrase above to search the catalog, or visit the National Archives Labor Day page directly at this link:

<https://www.diverseeducation.com/institutions/article/15682886/florida-state-acquires-newly-discovered-papers-for-emmett-till-archives>

Excerpt from the article:

“Florida State University has acquired new documents it plans to add to the Emmett Till Archives.

The documents are a 33-page, single-spaced research memorandum by journalist William Bradford Huie and his correspondence with lawyer John Whitten Jr., who defended Till’s killers, J. W. Milam and his half-brother, Roy Bryant. The papers were gifted to Florida State by Whitten’s granddaughter, Ellen Whitten.”

Excerpt:

“Multiple outages made for a series of frustrating setbacks for users who rely on the digital library’s vast resources, though details on who has caused this new disruption are still unclear. At original publication, it appeared that this was the fourth—yes, fourth—cyberattack on the Internet Archive since the beginning of October.”

NEW OFFICER INTRODUCTION: MAX PONT

Hi everyone!

My name is Max Pont and I am the new SAAMUSC communications chair. I am from New Hampshire and I am in my final semester of the MLIS program with an Archival Studies emphasis. I recently finished my practicum at the Lawrence History Center in Lawrence, MA where I learned some of the day-to-day aspects of archival work over the 2024 summer months, and it was an awesome experience as I did not have an archive background before starting the MLIS program. In my free time I enjoy doing genealogical research, trying new foods, hanging out with my cats Rosie (pictured) and Phoebe, and having a good cup of coffee.

DONATING RECORDS TO AN ARCHIVE?

Key Information to Know (from the Society of American Archivists)
